

WHISKEY COVE

RUNNING WILD - RUNNING WHISKEY

BY DENISE FRISINO

Unintentional stowaway, young Alexandria fell into the heart of Prohibition's underworld--and Jake McKenzie. Alex, the flaming redhead, thrilled to the risks of rum running, speeding over the waters and evading the law between Canada and Washington State. But when she caught the eye of Antonio, the head of the Italian Mafia intent on taking over the Northwest Territory, excitement turned perilous.

Decades later, details of Antonio's murder still haunt her. And Jean, the college student Alex hires to tame her garden, soon wonders whether this older feisty, in-command woman has more sinister plans than simple yard work.

Set in the 1970s, steeped with research of the bootlegging era, Whiskey Cove portrays the tumultuous times of changing society ruled by the unquenched demand for booze and the law that worked both sides.

TITLE	Whiskey Cove
AUTHOR	Denise Frisino
PUBLICATION DATE	January 2012
MARKETING PLAN	Internet, Personal Appearances
AUDIENCES/MARKETS	Fiction, General Audiences
BINDING	6 x 9 Perfect Bound
FEATURES	311 pages
ISBN	978-1-937454-07-4
LCCN	2011938709
PRICE	$17.95
PUBLISHER	Book Publishers Network, sherynhara@earthlink.net
DISTRIBUTOR	EDK Book Distributors, edkdistribution@hotmail.com
WHOLESALERS	Ingram, Baker & Taylor, Partners/West, Quality, Unique
WEBSITE	www.whiskeycovebook.com
AUTHOR CONTACT	denise@denisefrisino.com

Denise Frisino spent her summers playing and working in the numerous islands that define the Pacific Northwest, where her family spans four generations. At age five, she took to the stage and has been involved in theatre and the film industry in Seattle and Los Angeles as an actress, writer, playwright, and producer, winning awards for her writing and acting. Denise has published several articles and a short story. In the public school system she taught English, drama, writing, and video, receiving the A+ Award for Excellence in Education. Denise enjoys being on the water, lived aboard one of the old Mosquito Fleet boats on Lake Union, and loves her row boat. She and her husband spend time at Hood Canal and reside in Seattle.

